

Dear team parents,

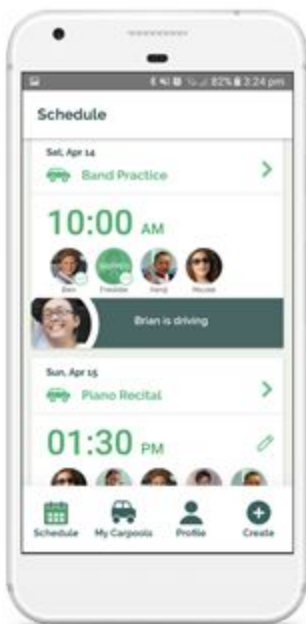

This year we would like to encourage our team to carpool to games and practices. We recommend using a family carpooling tool called GoKid to help everyone share rides to team events so that everyone can show up—every time—without being stressed.

To get started, you just need to download the GoKid app (free!), take 2 minutes to register, and then connect your SportsEngine account to the app. Once you do that, you can set up carpools with other team families quickly and easily.

The connection will import our game and practice schedule for this season, and will help you identify other families in the team to carpool with.

Here is a bit more info about GoKid:

About GoKid

The GoKid app is a carpool solution that saves families time, relieves stress and reduces congestion on the roads. The mobile app keeps the driving schedule organized, plots the optimal driving route for each carpool event and sends out automated reminders to participants. It is invitation-based, meaning that anyone can set up a carpool, but only the families they invite can join their carpool.

How do I get GoKid?

The GoKid app is available in iTunes, Google Play and on the web, free. The SportsEngine connect option is available on iPhone apps and coming to Android in spring 2019. (But Android users can still join imported SportsEngine carpools set up by other team members!)
